G. G. GILBERT

Of Shelby.

EDITOR LILLARD, of the Daviess News, is somewhat of a mind-reader. In fact he is in that line in such that he can tell not only what Judge M. C. Sautley wants and thinks, but many things the judge never thought of. Mind readers are dubbed professors in side shows and many other places and Brer Lillard being one he is entitled to all the honors of the "profession." After reading Judge Sautley's mind Prof. Lillard finds that our townsman wants $75 to buy 100 bushels of wheat and $5 to buy 100 pounds of tobacco, etc. This settles the question. We have denied the charge all along that Judge Sautley is a bolter, but we must give over now. A man who wants to buy wheat and tobacco at such prices can be nothing short of a bolter. Prof. Lillard also finds that the judge does not want "any thing open and above board" because he asks for a primary. The professor is wrong there. Nothing is fairer than primary elections, where each voter can have a voice and where the ringsters can't have everything their way. The professor knows primaries are fair, though he merely pretends to think differently because he knows that Judge Sautley would beat his candidate a block in one. "He prefers the ballot box, where if a fraudulent vote is put in, it can't be gotten out because nobody can say who the fraud voted for. He prefers the system of counting that immediately proceeds to burn up the ballots so that a man may act the rascal without fear of detection." We are shocked at the professor's ignorance concerning the election laws. School children here know that the ballots voted are kept in the boxes for six months and are then burned if there is no contest. Judge Sautley does prefer the ballot box, but you misjudge his reasons for it. He knows, as you do, that those who pretend to be primaries feel honor bound to support the nominee. He knows that when one or two men in a precinct convention run matters to suit themselves the voters of that precinct take very little interest and feel that they are being blindfolded—that they can support the nominee if he suits them, or not as they like. He knows further that this judicial district is so rick-riddled democratic Gibraltar and that the successful candidate has to get every vote possible in order that he may make his call and election sure. In further reading Judge Sautley's mind the professor presents a lot of figures and imagines a childish conversation between our townsman and his four master counselors, who are absolutely silly to be noticed. The professor evidently mistakes the most able circuit judge in Kentucky for a peasant politician, who stoops to the small things suggested, but as usual he is wrong. Judge Sautley's dignity is in keeping with the high office he holds and he neither thinks nor cares about the little master commissioner conversations or juggling of figures Prof. Lillard charges to him. The judge is not only a dignified gentleman, but he is a democrat in all the world implies—who ever scratches a ticket, but who with his vote and means help every democrat nominated. Can the professor say as much for the candidate whose nomination he opposes? Certainly he can not.

THE Kansas City Star says that Parsons Washburn, of Oyster Bay, who made the now notorious statement before President Roosevelt, is like a man who arose at a funeral in a Missouri town and announced that "if no person had anything to say about the departed he would like to make a few remarks about his coffin of silver."

WILLIAM GOOCH, who died near Greenup, aged 90, was in both the Mexican and Civil Wars and never sold or received a pension. His name deserves to be written in letters of gold and pictures of silver.

On the hypothesis no doubt that the Lexington people have no Bibles, the Democrat, of that city, is giving its readers a chapter of the book of books each Sabbath morning.

ADAM DEMOREST instructed for Editor P. J. Campbell, of the Somerset Press, for Congress. Now let the splendid gentleman be nominated and elected.

THAT republican governor of Iowa is not one of those ear-gouging politicians. He says "Iowa is for tariff reform, Roosevelt or no Roosevelt!"

In a speech at Kansas City, W. J. Bryan proposed as a trust remedy, the plan of refusing them admission to the mails, and the use of railroads and telegraph. That would cut the life of the trusts as rich veins of life by railroads, telegraph and mail lines and thus have money to burn. A democratic president and a democratic House is the only remedy and when the people come to their senses and vote right we may have to submit, if not entirely break up the infernal trusts.

JUST think of this: The annual report of the commissioner of pensions shows that there are 999,446 names on the rolls. There has been a net gain of 5,732 pensioners since 1898. The amount paid out during the fiscal year was $137,501,238 and the cost of operating the bureau and agencies aggregated $3,000,529. The pension system since the beginning of the government has cost $2,992,509,019.

THE superlatives are calling attention to the fact that the president began his New England trip on Friday and Craig was killed, and that he also began his Western trip on Friday with the result that he was brought home on a cot.

PUDIN' HEAD DEBOE, who is in Washington, says he thinks the republicans will carry the Third, Fifth, Ninth and 11th Congressional districts in Kentucky.

THE railroad commissioners' race seems to be McChord first and Crockett second. The former will win on the first ballot at Frankfort to-morrow.

A CARD.

The following card is self-explanatory and gives the lie to a charge that has been made in many portions of this judicial district:

STANFORD, Sept. 29.

Editor of INTERIOR JOURNAL.

In reply to your inquiry whether there was any motion or proposition for a primary election at the meeting of the executive committee of the 13th judicial district of Kentucky held in the city of Louisville, Aug. 9, 1902, other than that proposed by me for the purpose of selecting the nominees for judge and Commonwealth's attorney, I will say that the only motion or order for a primary election in said meeting was the resolution proposed by me and that there was no motion or proposition for a primary election by a viva voce vote or any other method by any other member of the committee. The full proceedings of that meeting have been published in your paper. Examine your files.

R. C. WARREN,

Chairman 13th Judicial District.

A tariff revision plank will be inserted in the Massachusetts State republican platform this year. Such a plank is said to meet the approval of Gov. Crane, the members of the resolution committee and most of the State's Congressional delegation.

Judge B. P. Birdsell was nominated for Congress by the republicans of the Third Iowa district. The withdrawal of Speaker Henderson was lamented in the platform, which asserted that the De Motte tariff plank did not vary from the St. Louis platform of 1900.

Pulaski county democrats have instructed for J. F. Harrison, of Wayne County, for Congress, and elected the following delegates to the Corbin convention: Bee V. Smith, Robt. Brown, Hayden Waddle, W. P. Smith, W. J. Brown, D. P. Spenser, Berry Smith, Granville Holcomb, W. F. Stigler, John W. Wood, F. J. Campbell.

A Shelbyville dispatch says that W. Lawson Sumrall, the republican nominee for Congress in this district, was there for several days last week. He came to get acquainted with the people and look over the situation, which he found anything but flattering from a republican standpoint. While there he gave out that he intended to conduct a vigorous campaign for the office.

The following diplomatic appointments were announced by the State department: Charlesagne Tower, ambassador to Germany; Robert S. McCormick, ambassador to Russia; Hollaender, ambassador to Austria-Hungary; Arthur S. Hays, minister to Spain; Charles Page Bryan, minister to Switzerland; David E. Thompson, of Nebraska, minister to Brazil. The latter is the only new appointee, the others being transfers or promotions.

"ARISE from the enjoyment of knowing Mr. Hale personally as an intelligent, cultured Christian gentleman. I have heard him recite on three different occasions and each time with increasing pleasure. His impersonation of character here are not only the charm of reality, but show that months and years of study have been given to his work. C. H. Irving, pastor last Baptist church, W. Hay City, Mich." At Walton's Opera House, Thursday evening, Oct. 2.

ONE of the most thoroughly enjoyed entertainments given at Walton's Opera House in a long time was that presented by Mrs. A. D. Reid's class Friday evening. It was a Delsarte entertainment and it was novel as it was pleasing. The prettiest young ladies in town took part and including the children in the working scenes more than 50 persons faced the large audience. The recitations by Misses Edna May Saunders, Anna Darsi, Josephine Carpenter and Master Thomas Varmon were all deserving of much praise while the vocal solo of Miss Nell Warren and the piano solos of Misses Nellie Abrams and Etta Belle Cloyd were very fine. The dance drill and drill marches were artistically rendered by 16 young ladies and the baroque on the former by 10 young men was very amusing. The quartette singing was perfect. Mr. S. B. Levy assisted Miss Anna Darsi in her recitation with a solo from "I Trovatore." He has a rich voice and his singing was a feature of the entertainment. Miss Alice Huffman furnished music accompaniment and did it well. The tableaux were well given and they added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. Mrs. Reid is to be congratulated on the high order and success of her entertainment. She spent less than two weeks training her class. She went to Richmond Saturday afternoon where she will get up a class and will come to Hustonville later in the season. Following is the program which was so excellently rendered:

Piano Solo - Miss Myrtle Abrams

Drill March - Misses Tavis Carpenter, Madie Menefee, Anna Cook, Myrtle Abrams, Anna and Jennie Pence, Lucille Cow, Nellie and Josephine Warren, Sophia Alvord, Etta Belle Cloyd, Sallie Stone, Pinkerton, Marie Maharty, Nannie Newland, Minnie Woods, Sallie and Ella May Saunders.

REMEMBER that W. Powell Hale, the entertainer will be at Alcorn's opera house, Hustonville, to-morrow (Wednesday) evening.

MART COLLIER, who was given a term in the penitentiary for poisoning his family at Bedford, Ind., lives at Rowland until a few years ago, Mr. M. D. Elmore tells us.

The reunion of regiments of the Union army recently announced to take place near Hustonville, has been postponed one year on account of conflicting dates with other reunions and the unveiling of the monument at Perryville.

It gives me pleasure to say that I know Mr. Hale as a christian gentleman and a fine entertainer. While it was connected with Stanford Female College he gave an entertainment to the faculty and students, which was largely attended by prominent ladies and gentlemen of Stanford. The satisfaction of the audience was general. I take pleasure in commending him as a gentleman of great success in his profession. Nannie S. Sauley.
